MR. DOWLING:
We appreciate all the work and hours that you have given to the Class of "74" in order to provide us with an educational opportunity challenging to us all.

We realize that you have an interest in young people and are willing to give a great deal of your time because of your concern for us.

We, also, understand that decisions that have to be made to provide for our entire school enrollment are difficult.

Realizing you have an interest in us all, it is with regret that we, as students, are unable to know you personally.

Thanks for caring.

WINTER CARNIVAL

We arrived that day at 7:45 with mittens, hats, boots, and hockey sticks, anxiously waiting for the day to begin. Attendance was taken and away we went across the field, some to the hockey games, some to the sack races. It was freezing cold and just barely snowing as the activities commenced. Unfortunately, there was to be no winter carnival queen or king, skiing, tobogganing, or snow sculptures, (or snow for that matter). The only events of the day were the inter-class ice hockey games for both boys and girls, and sack races. We stood by the pond during the games with "nipped" noses and frozen toes watching the grueling battle. But the outcome of both the games and the sack races proved, beyond doubt, which class reigned in greatness. The class of 1974 won in glory. Although the snow and events were limited during our winter carnival, would you believe. . . WE HAD FUN???

CLASS OF 1974

We came together for the first time in our eighth grade year. Kids from No. Berwick, Berwick, & Lebanon united as a class. We were young and it was different, kind of scary making new friends and getting acquainted. We liked being able to make a few choices on our own like where we wanted to eat lunch. Remember? Some of us stayed in homeroom, and some walked across the muddy parking lot to the Estabrook School for hot lunch. But most of us left school grounds during lunch hour and went across the street to Jim's or walked downtown. We had a few decisions, though, that we didn't make for ourselves. Back then boys couldn't wear jeans and girls had to wear dresses everyday. Frequently, you could see a nose or two with gum on it, because the person who wore it got caught chewing it in class. was silence in the hallways in those days, and everyone walked on the right side only. At the few dances we had, we needed passes to go to the basement, blue ones for the boys, pink ones for the girls. These were some of the things that made us anxious to be high schoolers. During this year we gradually came together as friends, as well as classmates. We began a career of class parties. Remember the Halloween party at Sandy's? How about Gregg Emery or Peter Perro's spin-the-bottle party? That was a time, as youth that we fell quickly in and out of love with new made friends. But winter subsided to spring and spring bloomed to summer as our last year of junior high school slipped into the past.....

Summer then turned quickly into the fall of 1970 when we started as freshmen at Noble

High School. Each of us entered the first of our high school years with a head full of hopes and a heart full of eagerness. Everything was new to us. We all had our doubts and wonders about how we could ever make it being the youngest and most inexperienced class but eventually we began to fit in. We quickly assumed our responsibilities as high school students. It wasn't really a task being able to choose the paths we were to follow for the next four years. Once we learned the system and how things went, life really looked up. The most remembered classes of that year were Earth Science with Mr. Godin, (remember his short-lived fish tank?) and, who could ever forget Miss Guptill's English Class? Most Freshmen never really make the news, and our class had no exceptions to the rule. Not until late in the year could

But we were there, waiting for an opportunity to test our new ideas and dare our dreams. We were given competitive example by the seniors of that year, our football and baseball teams both won the STATE CHAMPION-SHIP Titles. It as a year of great school spirit. We couldn't wait until the time when we would be on top but for the present, we just wanted to be sophomores...

As we began as sophomores, we said good-bye to our freshman year with the happy thought that we were no longer the "bottom" class. We still had the hopes and eagerness of the year before but the feeling of being new and out of place began to fade. It was a year of adjusting, of establishing ourselves firmly in the school as a class ready to go to the top. We had a good time just knowing that we were no longer freshmen, but not yet having the responsibilities that come with being a junior or senior. That was the year of Mr. Carey's great biology class, the year when we had English electives for the first time. We began to show more enthusiasm in the activities we chose to support. We started to notice the capabilities of those who would later be class leaders or help take the sports teams to victory. But the biggest event of our sophomore year was when we were measured for our class rings, and then there was the waiting... but finally the day came when we were called to the cafeteria and were able to wear our rings back to class. Now people really knew that we weren't freshmen any-

And so, as we started our junior year, we met the new challenges with the same determination which had brought us thus far. There were decisions to be made and many things to be done. It was the last year of SRA tests and achievements, the first year to take SAT's in preparing for college. We also had to prepare for the junior prom. We needed money and ways to raise it. The class officers called some class meetings. We argued and planned and finally decided on a spaghetti supper as one of the means. Parents, faculty and administration were invited to enjoy a real italian supper and get acquainted. Remember how much fun we had? Everyone dabbled in the culinary arts that day. After, as we cleaned, he had spaghetti and towel fights. We ate so much it felt like we were about to burst and we didn't want to see even a single strand of spaghetti again for a month or so. When we had finished cleaning, we sat in the cafeteria, with the lights low, listening to Brent's stereo. It was a good feeling to know we had succeeded at something as a class. The next fund raising activities were food sales on Thursdays and a car wash. We washed buses and trucks and cars and even each other on that day. Meanwhile, during school hours everyone got together to talk and laugh and make flowers in the "prom room". We made bags of them. After-school-hours were spent making flowers at "flower parties". There were two of them--Donna had one, Vickie had the other. The hard-

Mountains, hills, sunshine, and butterflies adorned one of the walls and a colorful world in the center of a starlit heaven looked down upon us from the other. It was beautiful. We wanted this prom to be the best ever. Everyone had high hopes and expectations which were met on the night of May 18, 1973 as we marched to the tune of "Color My World". The prom stands out as the biggest event to be remembered but there were other little things which stick fast in our memories of the junior year. How about Chemistry Class? Remember the Chem lab experiments we did? We proved to have alot of athletic ability that year. Our class has some of the best. We became sports minded and always out to win. As we accepted responsibilities more readily that year, so did we accept each

Compared to a life time these last 3 years and the year to come are only a tiny particle but they are our past and base from which to build on for the future. As seniors, this last year we have many things yet to look forward to. We hope to prove 1974 to be a year to remember and a class to remember. Our four high school years have marked the turning and tuning of our lives. There are many changes in the seasons of human life. As the Winter snows quietly cover the earth and as the bud

GOOD OLD NOBLE

Now that we are leaving,
Everyone realizes it's true;
We owe some thanks to someone
Who helped us make it through.

Was it teachers, students, or us
Who led us on our way?
It was everyone at Noble
Who brought us to this day.

Now it's time for graduation.
We're leaving friends new and old,
But how can we go our separate ways and do as we ve been told?

We'll hold on to our memories
And remember those so dear.
We'll sadly receive our diplomas and wish we had another year.

But on with life we all must go
To do the best we can
We'll remember all our experiences
When our yearbooks we will scan.

So to all you underclassmen;
Remember Noble at its best
Because you, too, will be leaving it
And that is your final test.

When we leave with experience
Whether it be good or bad
Remember good old Noble
Was the best we ever had.

Someday we will return there
In our memories we recall
But will it ever die in our hearts?
For Noble was good to us all.

mick "74"

I wonder why
It had to be,
She was so young!
So happy--so free.

I saw her laugh
And I saw her cry,
She got sick,
But why did she die?

You took her
For all she was worth,
Still, what was your reason,
To take her from earth?

The tears have come,
Because she's gone,
But we'll remember her always
By both word and song.

Can you tell me why
It had to be?
Why?
How come, Debbie???

REMEMBER

To gaze into a picture of a person in a place
and remember those days,
those crazy, zany
full of fun years
that we all shared.

To see an old friend
after years apart
and remember it all,
the silly times,
the happy times,
the serious moments, too.

Moments in life
grasped one more time
To remain in our hearts
Cherished memories to stop and look back at with sad but joyful hearts.

CAPTURED MOMENTS

Moments are captured
Every minute, every day,
And whether you know it
People watch you sad or gay.

At times there are moments
That you wish you would never see.
But then there are those moments,
Like when we're alone, just you and me.

There are also the moments
That are captured by a small machine
It will develop a picture
And be put somewhere where it can be seen.

Moments that are captured
by you or anyone else
Are times to be remembered-maybe forever
But whatever those moments are
There will be times
When the capturement of them
Will seem to start all over.

"I've almost got the hang of it."

Oh no"!

The Melodians is a group of students interested in more serious music than those in the chorus. An audition is required to become a member. For additional practice, all Melodians are required to be members of the Chorus.

The Melodians perform songs which are written for smaller singing groups, such as Madrigals, and often present songs a cappella. Our goal this year is to compete in state competition.

The Noble High School chorus is a group of students who are interested in singing just for the pleasure it gives. No audition is required to become a member of the chorus, although strict attendance is maintained. Although the chorus presents only a few concerts during the school year, much experience is gained just from the numerous rehearsals, composed of approximately 30 students, the chorus contains altos, sopranos, and basses. Accompanied by a piano, the chorus performs a variety of music from Christmas carols to pop tunes.

Mrs. Lamb, Advisor

NOBLE'S Math Teams are in two separate categories, being Tri-State and SYSSA. Tri-State is open to Soph., Juniors, and Seniors and consists of monthly journeys throughout ME, NH, and MA. Usually seven schools participate. The host school at each meet provides a dinner for all of the participants.

SYSSA meets are only between schools in this area. These meets are open to members of all four classes. These meets are, also, held monthly.

During a math meet, members choose categories that they feel confident in. (For example: Right triangle, Equalities, etc.). They go to a room and are given ten minutes to solve three problems. Each student chooses three categories (Nine Problems). Their answers determine the school's score.

This is the first year of wrestling at Noble High School.

We have approximately twenty-two members on the team and they all strive hard for the winners circle.

The competition is very competitive but the team didn't expect to be No. "1" this year.

We really can't ask for a better coach than Mr. Walker, because he is always there to cheer us on. Plan to come and support the team. We are sure you will enjoy our new sport at Noble.

Last spring the Noble High baseball team struggled through a long and frustrating season. With a 3-11 record, however, there is nowhere to look but up.

As the season opened, we were found with a young and inexperienced squad; the only consistent starters returning being sophomores Jeff Fournier, our team captain, and Keith Mc Comish. The pitching staff was also started from scratch, though freshman, Dave Poore, and sophomore, John Stuart, showed great promise. Power was supplied to the offensive attack by the bats of Junior Wayne Soucy, and Keith Mc Comish, who batted .357 and .420 respectively.

Though this was truly a rebuilding year, with the loss of only one starting senior, Paul Kennedy, the team is still a young one. However, with the determination and experience gained through this year's many disappointments, you can be sure that Noble will be in strong contention with the rest of the league in the coming season, and that it will once again become a name to be dreaded. Consistently for three years our softball team has been victorious. Our record stands with forty-one wins and only one loss. The one game we lost was to Marshwood and it was a small defeat of eighteen to seventeen. Considering the factors in which we lost the game; there was approximately eight inches of water in the outfield and we struggled through nine innings. The game was not an easy win for Marshwood and a hard loss for us.

Track, the fastest, the longest, the highest. The individual conflict with one's self to exceed the last performance. Track the sport of all seasons for all people. You run, train, and run some more. You work on a technique change and improve it. Now is the time; all the training and work on the line, the pent up energy inside you ready to explode in a split second, all for the thrill of victory or the agony of defeat.

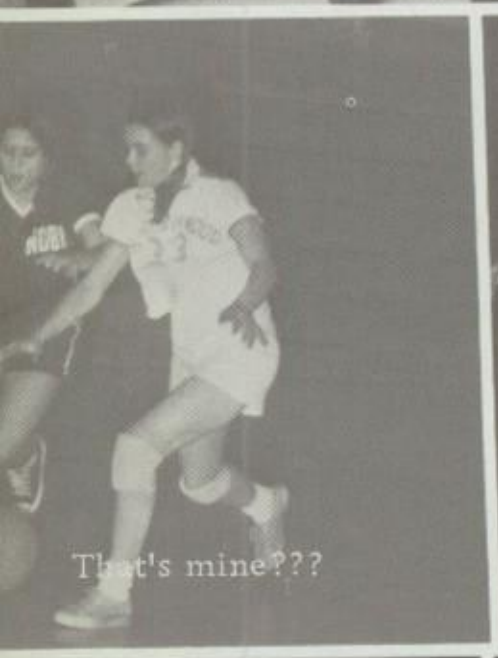
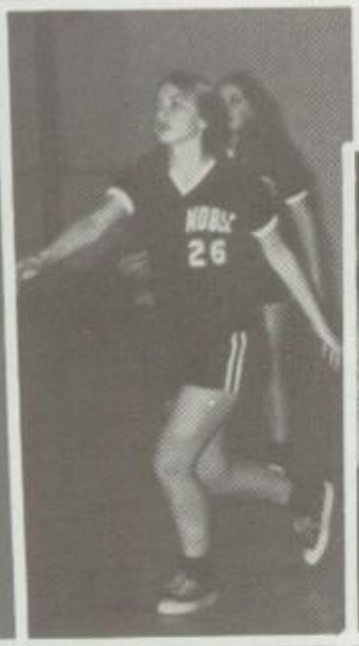
Coach Koehan

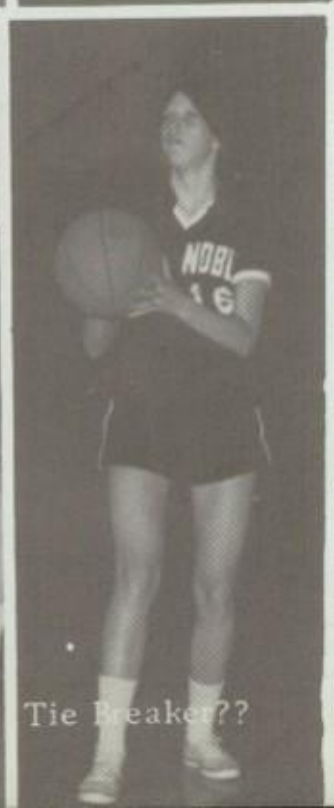
"How Can I Help Here."

Under the direction of Coach Koehan this has been a very enjoyable sport. During the season we learned the art of winning and the agony of defeat. Through hard work and many practice sessions, we feel we have gained the experience that is needed to be competitive on the varsity level. We are looking forward to meeting next year's challenge.



That's mine???





Tie Breaker??
